Benefits the "Fundación Aladina"

The terms 'Crianza' and 'Reserva', in Spanish wines, refer to the length of time the wine has been aged, specifically the amount of time the wine has been aged in oak barrels. Crianza: A wine that has spent one year in oak barrels. Reserva: A wine that has been aged for two years; one of these years has to have been spent in oak. Albariño: is a variety of a white wine grape grown in Galicia, northern Spain.
